The biggest question is do you enjoy going to a store and having options? The fact is we know that some foods are good for us and some are not and yet we are treated as adults knowing that we will make the choices that best suit us. Just the same, masks should be used by those who feel a need to and be a personal choice. The hypocrisy to think that there aren't thousands of people hospitalized everyday for poor choices other than not using a mask is ridiculous. Everyday people die from obesity, lung cancer from smoking, drunk driving, overdose, alcoholism, etc. These issues could be addressed and improved but instead we allow people to make their choices as long as They're informed of the consequences. Stop treating us as if we can make the choices that best suit us. Thats what makes us adults. We have the right to choose what is best for us and our children.
