I am for the law as long as it has specific guidelines. For example, if numbers are at a over a certain point for a specific amount of time, the mask mandate will go into effect. In order for the mask mandate to be removed, numbers must be under a certain amount for a specified period of time. Or, mask mandate will occur as long as vaccination rates remain below a specific number. I think the health experts should be consulted to help create the guidelines for the mandate.
