I think it is time that we all come to the reality that Covid-19 is going to be part of our "flu" season going forward. It shows that the "vaccines" do not stop people from getting Covid but it does reduce the severity. At this point anyone who wants the vaccine has it and those who have already had Covid have the same protections as those vaccinated. We have reached the point where wearing face masks needs to be done. Anyone who still feels like they need it for their protection can choose to wear one but we should be continue to be forced. It needs to be a CHOICE not requirement. I have to wear a mask all day as I work in the medical field. Ince I get out of work I am done with the mask for the day. Since so may people still work from home and are not impacted but the all day mask they feel like it is no big deal to wear one. I am sure they would have a different perspective if they had one on all day.
