Of course you should require face coverings. Common sense and science tell us that. On the other hand, an extremely vocal minority will be very upset and make a lot of noise about it. Some of them might even refuse to wear and/or require masks and we all know there isn't much we can do about that. It is your choice. Placate the ignorant and vocal minority or protect the health of all citizens in the county. I would urge you to do the right thing.
