Masking has proven to be our best defense against passing the Covid viruses (and many other things) between us. The vaccines protect against the effects of the infection but do not affect our ability to contract, carry and spread the virus. I strongly urge that masks be made the norm for the foreseeable future, and that PROPER wearing of them be required by law or ordinance in ALL situations of contact with people other than household members. Otherwise Covid-19, its variants, and probably more viruses will become the norm.
