I am 71 which puts me in the so called vulnerable age group. I have received all 3 available shots from Moderna and see no reason at this point to require everyone to wear masks if they choose to not want to. 10 years ago I battled cancer. It involved 6 weeks of daily radiation, radical surgery, and 7 months of chemo. During that time I would wait to receive my infusions sitting among 50-75 other people in close quarters who may have been carrying who knows what bugs in them. No one including the medical staff ever wore masks. Yet even with my compromised immune system I suffered no harm. It is time to stop living in fear and allow people to make their own choices to live safely.
