I don't believe that the County Commissioners are legally able to put in place such a mandate without something also coming from the Governor. I really don't want to see our county get bogged down in the courts, but that's what I foresee happening if this mandate gets put into effect. I also don't believe masks are effective against stopping Covid, at least in the way the general population uses them (constantly touching them, not fitting properly, not wearing over the nose, etc). Putting this mandate in place might look like we're doing something helpful, but in reality it's only virtue signaling and not really helping anyone.
