This is to let you know that I remain in opposition of a mask mandate, an outright violation of our rights to consent to medical experimentation according to the Nuremburg Code. Never before the rise of covid were masks used as they are being used now, and that is because scientific studies showed the common mask to be ineffective as employed by everyday people in everyday life. Plus, basic science shows that a certain base load of viruses are required to be contagious, and that base load is recognized by the presence of symptoms. This is why symptoms are important and informing and not to be suppressed. Sick people stay home. Healthy people walking around are not a threat. This subject should read: Required Face Coverings for the purposes of mob morality and mass fear while pretending to be reducing the Spread of COVID-19. But, as the saying goes: You cannot reason someone out of a position they didn't reason themselves into to begin with. The psychology of this response is of paramount importance. Please listen to psychologists; the increased rates of suicide; the depression; the isolation; the clear scientific evidence that one's state of mind, body, and spirit are the essence of health and one's immune function. Despite this officials have only preached the disempowering narrative of fear, masks, social-distancing, and vaccination. I do not believe that the source of this response is out to protect people's health. Otherwise, we would be empowering people to take responsibility, eat well, and live active lifestyles. Please read the following article. It is very insightful: <https://charleseisenstein.substack.com/p/mob-morality-and-the-unvaxxed> Thank you, Gabrielle
