I do not feel that we have to make masks mandatory at this time. Especially without there being a "state of emergency" At this point we are 2 years in and anyone who wants/forced to be vaccinated and boosted is. If they have done so they believe it will keep them safe. Also some people who don't feel safe are going to wear a mask regardless of a mandate. We need to recognize that Covid is here to stay in some form or another and everyone will get it eventually. We need to start being able to make choices for ourselves and our families.
