I don't think you should restrict the rights of people who have already jumped through hoops to get a permit to carry a concealed weapon. They have already been proven to be up standing citizens. They have no criminal records, and have had extensive back ground and mental health checks that are required by the state to get the permit. Also by passing this ordinance the county would now be responsible for providing 24 hour, 365 day a year security at all of these locations. With a national shortage of police officers and a mass retirement coming in all first responder categories I think it would be a good thing to allow citizens the right to protect themselves if necessary. We shouldn't treat second amendment rights any differently than we would treat first amendment or fourth amendment rights.
