Prohibiting law abiding citizens or even increasing the area in which law abiding citizens are not allowed to carry is getting out of hand. We, as law abiding citizens, have done exactly what has been asked to rightfully carry and protect ourselves and love ones. Our community is getting less safe as days pass. It's very unsettling to hear that Maryland(Charles co.)is actually considering to further restrict its citizens of protecting themselves and moreover aid those who disregard the laws and safety of others. I fear the day that criminals or anyone who wish to do harm may have the upper hand, knowing that law abiding citizens will not be protected on certain areas, solely because we choose to follow the rules of law. Following the rules of law should not put its citizens in harms way.
