This effort appears to be ambiguous at best. The 100 yard limit doesn't take into account any private landowner considerations or access to public areas not considered part of the public building. This restriction targets law abiding persons that have been properly vetted to carry and doesn't appear to address those that shouldn't carry. it also discriminates between law abiding citizens and members of the board that have been vetted through the identical process. Please reconsider actions that are have not been properly researched and/or written.
