Licensed firearms carriers are not the problem and further restricting our rights to bear arms is unconstitutional. By implementing these policies you're making honest citizens into criminals. Imagine a situation where a citizen with a legal concealed carry permit goes to a government building to transact business. Even if the building has restrictions on firearms in the building, the citizen likely can't park in the parking lot and secure their firearm. This proposed language is attempting to solve a problem that doesn't exist. Concealed carry holders are statistically the most law abiding.
