Possession is wrong. If I want to go to work in Charles County, to Virginia or another State and this is in effect, I should be allowed to secure and pass through the effected toxic zones. The 100 yards provision is undefined on our County road. I have no problem with a ban on the buildings owned by the county tax payers, but the the common/publicly funded linkages are an overreach as well as publicly undefined. If you insist on this, maybe paint the streets in the toxic zones of none possession red, blue, pink. Retired police officers that qualify should be allowed to carry. A person who was granted a permit after an full investigation by the Maryland State Police that was determined to have a valid life threatening threat cause and was allowed to carry to protect themselves and/or family is being told they can no longer carry and can move around the County. How does the signing of this Bill by these Commissioners remove or neutralize that threat? The rule for Thee and not for Me, shows the real issue here. The Constitution has given the right by the Second Amendment and the The Supreme Court has upheld that Right. What makes this Commission think it has the right to overrule them? Kill this Bill or clean up the lose ends.
