Lennar sales associates used a community based school as a selling point for the massive community they are building and they are now trying to take it away. They have been allowed to continue to build in spite of the unfulfilled promises that they continue to make to their already existing communities. They have promised to fix things that weren't properly constructed and have still yet to come through on those promises. Lennar has created a reputation of big promises and very little follow through with the people who purchase homes from them. To allow them to continue to build in our county without being accountable for the way they do business with county residents would be negligent on the part of our elected officials.
