Are you:

Against Topic

Comment

I have read the majority of the complaints and a lot of great points have been made with a stance Against the Topic that I could have not said better my self. So I just want to say, do not allow any rule change regarding the 85% rule as a Multi-Million dollar company in position to make more by this project. I'm sure they can find a way around speeding up, if there is a will there is a way. You let one company come in and change the Rule, you will have other's following along for all other outrageous reasons. As, for the buffer area the natural regrowth will always be better than mans way. I must be honest, I'm not exactly versed in why the school should be moved or not but hopefully its not being as a Trojan Horse why the 85% should be changed.
