I am against for building more houses when much has to be done with the grading, flooding, current streets, lack of sidewalks, lack of grocery options, lack of stores, lack of shopping, lack of parks for children, lack of schools, and lack of restaurants. First build around the Bryan's road shopping area, make Marshall hall safer with streetlights and sidewalks for the public to walk. I do like the primary care here but bring more. If you are building more, being in more options for shopping and build more schools for the children. Create a community Rec center where the youth can hang. It takes us at least 20 mins to go to waldorf to use one of the county rec areas. We need more of it this before we go out and build more houses. Why don't we focus on the roads and current flooding areas now - like why is that happening now? What will the effects be with more housing?
