County Commissioners, It is my understanding that the mayor of La Plata will propose even more housing in La Plata at Wednesday's meeting, just as its current residents are already voicing concerns about the rise in crime (IHOP, Applebee's, carjacking on Washington Ave., assault on Charles Street) and an increase in traffic. Would this new housing solve either of these problems, or exacerbate them? Honestly, we're frustrated and disheartened by the rapid changes in our once small town that are forcing many residents to move to quieter, safer areas. None of these changes seem to be implemented with us in mind. Only potential revenue. And that is the equivalent of selling the utter soul of something for financial gain. Thank you for your time and consideration.
