As written I am against the above mentioned legislation. I am not in agreement with the extensive set back requirements for agricultural purposes. They are unreasonable for farming operations. They are more extensive then industrial or commercial set back requirements. Agricultural operations should be able to be performed up to the property line or closer there of. If any type of buffer is necessary, the buffer burden should be on the residential development that impacts the agricultural process that has been in the county for hundred of years. Don't forget, if not for our farms and agricultural operators, you would have no food to eat.
