I am generally supportive of growth and development for Western Charles County, but why must it always come at the expense of our health, particularly our children's health? We had to fight against the gas fracking station expansion proposed by Dominion, only to have the MVLA's influence save Western Charles County from that proposed massive air polluter. Do the health and well-being of my children of color not matter? This expansion WILL expose our children to highly toxic airborne lead (a gas illegal for car use) produced by lead-burning airplanes. Our children attend JC Parks Elementary School located less than 1 mile from Maryland Airport. Unless, piston-engine aircraft that litter our skies with leaded gas are banned from landing at this airport, this initiative will NOT have my family's support. <https://www.nbcnews.com/business/business-news/leaded-gas-was-phased-out-25-years-ago-why-are->
