I'm against any expansion that destroys green and the environment. Shasho comments county owns no land and it is up to the title owner to develop as they see fit. County needs to zone, protect and not allow landowners to destroy our green spaces. County needs to improve what we have whether it be empty lots with weeds growing through payments, empty spaces in shopping areas, not allowing small strip shopping dotting here and there while large box stores sit empty. Yes, down the road 20 years it might look different but, what about ones of us having to live here now? Roads are unsafe, our green spaces gone and critters in the backyards of high density development like my townhome in beautiful north Waldorf. Calvert County develops sensibly and most is attractive. Not so much in this county. Children in schools need green spaces just as older adults. Land and water need protection.
