I am opposed to a mask mandate. I have worn a mask when required to be considerate to others. I know that people disagree about their effectiveness. It has been too long now (almost 2 years) and resources should be used to treat people who get sick and to come up with a cure. This virus is not going away anytime soon, just like other illnesses. It is not right to force people; it is a personal choice they need to make for themselves and their families. It makes me think of the "gas shortage" years ago, under Carter, that caused all of us to wait in long lines, face rationing, being told to what degree we could heat and cool our homes, etc. While there was a problem (even if not a shortage) it was handled horribly, creating headaches and difficulties for everyone. It is the government's job to work these things out, while preserving the citizens' freedom. Please do that.
