Wearing or not wearing a mask should be an individual choice for people to make on their own, and government (whether local, state, or federal) has absolute NO RIGHT to decide this for everyone. Who do you think you are? The United States is supposed to be a free country, not a dictatorship, and this is a GROSS infringement on people's personal freedom. This is what a dictatorship does. You have no right to do this, and should be ashamed of yourselves. And this is leaving aside the fact that you are not actually saving any lives by doing this. There is absolutely NO evidence that the masks are protecting people in any way. The fact that you can breathe while wearing them means they allow air to pass through. So what makes you or anyone else think that the virus doesn't also pass through? These masks were designed to protect against dust particles, not viruses, which are airborne molecules. Have you or anyone else actually conducted a scientific study on this? No, of course you haven't. So you have absolutely NO basis for justifying this moronic policy. All wearing a mask does is make certain gullible people feel like they are protecting themselves, because it gives them something tangible to do. But it does absolutely nothing.
