COVID is endemic and masks do not reduce the spread. Like the flu, it's here to stay. The infection rate is nominal. Requiring citizens to wear it hurts county businesses as many are now shopping in Calvert and St Mary's counties of going over the bridge to VA. With every other surrounding jurisdiction lifting their mandates, the commissioners should have to explain their insistence on keeping it in place. This is about something more than masks. Whether it's a totalitarian power play or something else, citizens will not capitulate and you should expect on-going legal challenges.
