You're way over your skis commissioners. Whether you know it or not, the county is bleeding tax revenue because people are voting with their feet. People are moving out of the county to less restrictive and safe locations and they're shopping in neighboring Virginia and St.Mary's for the same reasons. Worry about the things that you need to worry about and stop restricting the liberty of county residents. Yes; liberty. If people feel uncomfortable and want to wear a mask, that's perfectly fine. If people feel comfortable and don't want to wear a mask; that's fine too. This is still America and people are free to make choices. Simple high school biology would dictate that a person with a vaccine (assuming the vaccine works) or someone with natural immunity should feel safe in public without a mask. If they don't, then they don't need a bunch of bureaucrats to mandate that they wear one. They can do it themselves. Conversely, if someone doesn't want to wear a mask and they feel okay to do it, then who are you to tell them to mask up? You're vaccinated (I'm assuming) and if you want to wear a mask, then wear one. Less laws and less regulations are better. People who are vaccinated and unvaccinated transmit the Covid 19 virus at similar rates according to a recent MIT study so that part doesn't matter to the general population. Wearing masks improperly, as all non-doctors out and about wearing masks do, does nothing to impede the virus. It's time to move on from this foolishness and let people live their lives. Enough nanny government.
