People should have the choice to do what is best for themselves. Having the government "tell" us what to do is short of being a government led society. There is enough information out there for the public to decide for themselves what to do. Stop having employees who make basically minimum wage be enforcers of your idea of required medical advise. More populated counties in this State do not even require masks. As a small business person I routinely go outside the county and even to King George VA to do shopping or go to a restaurant just avoid the issues that come from mask mandates. Let the businesses decide for themselves what they want to do.
